CITY COUNCIL LEASES LAND, VIEWS PLAT

The City Council Tuesday night agreed to assist on minor surface work in a new sub-division and approved a one-year lease on city-owned bottomland.

City Secretary Buddy Fuller also advised that B&W Construction Co., firm building the water-sewerline extension to North Cameron, would have water to the area by February 1.

Fuller said the firm advised councilmen work would continue after that date on lift stations and other auxiliary work, but water service would be in the north Cameron and industrial area February 1.

Public Works Supt. J. B. Earle reported to the council that applications for airport parking apron funds have been filed with Texas Aeronautic Commission, Austin. Total allotted by the state is about $5,900.

A plat for a 24 - house sub-division was filed by Anton Anderle, Cameron businessman-lumber dealer, Tuesday. The plat shows six four-lot blocks bordered by extensions of West 24th St., North Austin Ave. and Polk Sts. Cameron city limits presently end at 22nd St.

Councilmen discussed the possibility of doing some outline work on streets in the sub-division, but not any major street work, Fuller said. City would do work where they could in the sub-division, Fuller told The Herald.

Charles Sanders, of Cameron, leased the City's 29 acres for one year for $312.50 with a renewal option of two years, Fuller said. The land is located along Little River between the river and Cameron east city limits south of US 77.

Mayor E. A. Perrin and Urban Renewal Chairman A. W. McCullin went to Fort Worth last week to complete renewal arrangements for Cameron's Workable Plan with Housing and Urban Development. Fuller noted the Council approved the renewal in a called meeting last week.

Fuller also noted utility line and drainage work was about complete on some 35 acres of the City's major paving program. Paving is to begin when preliminaries are completed, he said.

SCHOOL HOLIDAY

Cameron Public School students will have a holiday Friday, January 10, while teachers have an end-of-semester workday. Classes will be dismissed Thursday afternoon January 9, and will resume at the start of the new semester on Monday, January 20.

Program Threatened . . .

Blood Goal Short

Cameron may lose its blood program if at least 108 units of blood are not collected at the next Bloodmobile visit.

This warning from Central Texas Red Cross Blood Center is the second for Cameron this year, according to Sister Aloysius, local blood program chairman. The warning came after Friday's Bloodmobile visit netted only 53 units of blood. A 71-unit quota was set for that visit.

The next Bloodmobile visit is tentatively scheduled for April, and will be the last in the blood program year which ends June 30. Sister Aloysius said at least 108 acceptable donors would be needed at the next visit to bring up Cameron's quota for the year.

Shortage of donors on Friday was blamed on the fact that many people are sick in January, with colds and various seasonal ills taking their toll of prospective donors. Only 61 donors presented themselves on Friday. Eight were turned down for medical reasons.

Sister Aloysius said residents should be reminded that if the blood program is withdrawn, the financial cost of blood to patients would be much higher than the nominal fee charged for transfusions now under the program. Cameron almost lost the blood program at one time, Sister Aloysius said, but donors came through at the last minute with enough units to fill the quota.

The next Bloodmobile visit may be the deciding one for Cameron.

125 REGISTER LIVESTOCK FOR SHOW

Seven trophies will be awarded to the champions of the Milam County Junior Livestock Show Saturday. The trophies are a new feature of the 23-year-old livestock show.

About 125 entries are expected in the Cotton Compress building across from the Mobil Oil Co. warehouse. Judging will begin at 9:30 a.m. Fred Schuetze, assistant Milam County Agent, said all animals must be in their places by 9 a.m.

The exhibitors, who are members of Milam County 4-H and FFA, will register in four divisions: Beef, Dairy, Swine and Sheep. There will be eight classes in this year's show: barrows, un-bred gilts, bred gilts, fat calves, dairy females, junior breeding beef females, fat lambs, and breeding ewes.

Trophies will go to the best in each class, with gilts combined for the breeding swine trophy. Ribbons will be awarded to all entries. Members of the senior A&M University Livestock Judging Team will be judges for the show. Entry fees of $2 per head for cattle and $1 per head for hogs and sheep will be charged this year. The entry fee money is used to purchase trophies.

Working with the show again this year are Byron Wise, general superintendent; Ed Laywell, sheep and dairy supt.; Clifford Angell, beef supt.; Henry Richter and Gene Hillman, swine supts.; Reeves Brown, commercial steer and records supt. and Dana Monroe, financial supt.

Tickets on a butcher steer and a butcher hog are being sold by 4-H and FFA members or can be purchased through the County Agent's office for $1 each. Proceeds from the ticket sale are used to finance the show.

"Only through local support and interest can this show be a success both for the county and the 4-Hers and FFA boys and girls who work so hard each year on the projects they exhibit," Schuetze said. He added that experience gained through participation in such shows will provide valuable background when these young people grow up and become engaged in the many agri-related businesses now growing in the state.

This is particularly important to Milam County. An estimate by county agricultural leaders at the end of 1968 showed the gross income from all county livestock was $9,636,013, a gain of $1,200,000 over 1967.

State agricultural surveys show an increase in feedlot operations and other agri-related industries whose impact is already being felt in Milam County.

With F.M.L.

Tommy Turner, assistant to Baylor University president Abner McCall, got a standing ovation from Cameron Rotary Club Wednesday.

Most newspapermen never see a day like that.

Waco bureau chief for the Dallas News for 20 years, Tommy gave an entertaining program on newspaper "typos" which drew ovations of laughter.

Then he told what Rotary in his hometown of Hillsboro has done and is doing for young people in our neighboring city to the north.

Tommy kids a lot. His serious note tagged on the end of the talk stirred the 30 some men who listened.

Often, what a man doesn't tell about himself tells a great deal more than what he does. Tommy's work as a journalist earned him an honorary doctorate from Mary Hardin Baylor and recognition in the Journalism Hall of Fame. He was the first non-Baptist to gain the honor. He is a Methodist.

Tommy is still a working journalist at heart, not that he isn't in editing Baylor alumnae publications and guiding VIP's through Baylor University.

He has taken the risks inherent in this business. And he came to the fore from a start as a youngster of 15 writing for the Hillsboro Daily Mirror.

Cameron Rotary and others as guests who heard thank him for a view of newspaper "typos" and what makes a newspaperman.

School Exec's Contract To '72

Cameron School Board members accepted a faculty resignation, approved the hiring of one new teacher and reelected Supt. D. R. Dodson's contract in a routine meeting Tuesday night.

A new three year contract was approved for Cameron School Superintendent D. R. Dodson. The new contract would extend his appointment as head of Cameron Independent School District to July 1, 1972. The present three year contract expires July 1, 1969.

The Board accepted the resignation of Jack Ruzicka, high school biology teacher, who is resigning to devote full time to farm interests.

They also approved a recommendation to hire James P. Weber as biology teacher. Weber is a native of New Braunfels and a graduate of Texas A&M University. He will begin work in Cameron at the opening of the new semester on January 20.

The Board also reviewed school consolidation proposals recommended by the Governor's Committee on Public School Education. The plan, if approved by the legislature, could reduce Milam County's seven school districts to one county-wide system.

Dodson said most school officials expect modifications of the committee recommendations. He said the large city school districts were in favor of the proposed plan and the smaller districts that would face consolidation, opposed it.

City Taps $11,543 From Sales Taxes

The one-percent sales tax collected from July through September added $11,543.81 to city coffers. The latest payment showed an increase of $400 over the first payment received in September. The sales tax money is deposited in the city's general fund. It was included in the budget approved last September. The tax is expected to add about $45,000 annually to city funds and averted a talked-of hike in city property taxes.

FIRST 1969 BABY

Cameron welcomed its first 1969 baby Wednesday, January 1 as Michael Howard Bradley, an eight-pound boy was born at St. Edward Hospital at 11:50 a.m. to Mr. and Mrs. Glen Bradley of 801 West First Street.

FIRE DESTROYS GARAGE, TRUCK ON SALEM ROAD

Fire destroyed a garage, pickup and automobile at the Reeves Brown farm on the Salem Road, west of Cameron, Tuesday afternoon.

The fire, believed ignited by trash burning nearby, also burned saddles and other storage in the garage. It was reported at 4:15 p.m.

Grass fires kept firemen busy, however all were brought under control quickly. Grass fires were reported on the Country Club Road near Little River bridge on Sunday; at 2002 N. Washington on Monday and at 401 Orchard on Tuesday.

Fire truck driver Warren McCall said several of the fires were started by trash burning unattended.

Season Review Shows Yoe Loss Margin Is Small

A year-end review of Yoemen basketball statistics released by Coach Ron Murdock shows a varsity team with a fine record, even though it has lost nine games out of the 16 played. Their losses were never by a large margin—eleven points was the largest and that in a game with district-leading Marlin.

Yoe's second loss to Marlin was smaller than the first—the score was 61-55 compared to the previous 68-57. A total of 848 points were rung up by the Yoemen for the 16 games.

Tommy Terrell leads Yoemen scoring with a total 235 points for the season so far. He made 263 field goal attempts and completed 110; 72 FTA with 34 FTM. His point average for the 16 games is 14.8.

Robert Brashear has an 11.3 point average for the 16 games, with 180 points total. He completed 53 of 136 FGA and 54 of 92 FTA.

Johnny Steamer: 143 point total, 54 FGM out of 158 FGA, 28 FTM out of 53 attempts, point average 9.

Bobby Simpson is the fourth starter who played all 16 games, and has a 122 point total with 46 FGM out of 119 tries, 34 free throws out of 62 tries.

Willie White and Jerry Richardson played 12 games each. White totaled 56 points and Richardson 31. Bobby Taplin played six games with 23 points total; Randy Hardwick made eleven in seven games; William Wheeler, eleven in five games; Danny Monroe, six points for eight games; David Edmonds seven for five; Norman Trubee eleven for five; and Ken McLerran five for four.

Q. - Will farmers be entitled to a refund on gas tax again this year?

A. - Yes, farmers are entitled to a credit for Federal tax paid on gas used on the farm for farming purposes. This credit should be entered on line 19 of Form 1040.

Q. - Who has to file a tax return?

A. - A return must be filed by every person under 65 who has gross income of $600 or more during the year. For those 65 and over, a return does not have to be filed until gross income reaches $1,200. However, if you are self-employed, you must file a return if you had net self-employment income of $400 or more, even though your gross income was less than $600.

The filing requirements also apply to minors. If, for example, a child has income of $600 or more from a savings or trust account or any other sources, then a return must be filed on behalf of that child.

Q. - I went into business for myself this year and have several employees. Is there any deadline for me to issue their withholding statements? One of my people already asked about it.

A. - The law requires employers to issue withholding statements by January 31. Many employers try to issue them as soon as possible after January 1 so their employees may file tax returns early.

Q. - I sold some stock at a loss last month. Can I take a deduction for this on Federal tax return?

A. - Yes, losses on the sale or exchange of stock can be deducted for income tax purposes when they exceed capital gains. The loss, whether short or long-term, must first be used to offset any capital gain you had during the year. Any excess loss can be deducted to the extent of taxable income computed without regard to exemptions or capital gains and losses, but no more than $1,000. Capital losses in excess of the amount you are allowed to deduct can be carried over to future tax years. Use Schedule D of Form 1040 to compute capital gains and losses.

ASCS

The County ASCS Office has been advised of several very important dates for cotton producers to remember. The final date for filing applications for new farm allotments is January 15, 1969. The owner and operator must file the application (acting together if separate) of the farm.

The final date to release unwanted farm cotton acreage allotments to the County Committee is March 8, 1969.

And all cotton producers wishing to request some additional cotton acreage must do so by March 8, 1969. No applications will be accepted after this date. March 29, 1969 is the final date by which the County Committee must re-appportion released cotton acreage allotments.

This is a reminder to all wool producers who sold shorn wool, unshorn lambs, and mohair in the 1968 marketing year, that January 31, 1969, is the final day to file an application for incentive payments under the wool program.

Coach Ron Murdock said his boys didn't do so badly considering that on Saturday night the Marlin team defeated La Vega by 20 points. La Vega had wrestled the district lead from Mexia then lost it to Marlin.

Season record for the Yoemen stands at 7-9.

Two games with Somerville are set for Thursday night (tonight) in Yoe gym, with junior varsity play starting at 6 p.m. and the varsity game following.

The freshmen will compete at the A&M Consolidated tourney Friday afternoon, matched with Rockdale.

No game was scheduled for Tuesday, as the Yoemen went to watch a Southwest Conference game between UT and TCU.

District play is scheduled to begin Tuesday, January 14 at Hearne with all three Yoe teams playing.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Lane and daughter of Temple visited in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Garcey during the holidays.

Alcoa Reviews Year . . .

New Potlines Highlight '68

Alcoa's Rockdale Works added production from a new smelting potline and announced construction of another one to highlight its bustling activities of 1968. Works Manager H. F. Chricso noted this week.

"The role of increasing importance of our plant in the company's production picture is emphasized by these two developments," Chricso said, "and the challenges that go with this new responsibility are great."

New Line 7 was placed in production at year's end, only three months after Alcoa announced and started construction on Line 8 which is scheduled for production early in 1970. Combined employment of Alcoa and Industrial Generating Company at Rockdale Works has already jumped past the 1650 mark and the total payrolls now exceed $13½ million annually.

A part of this new smelting capacity will go into redrawing rod for the electrical conductor fabricators. Chricso said, with Alcoa Conductor Products Company's new Marshall Works scheduled to receive sizable shipments. Although the redrawing rod facility at Rockdale was completed in 1967, production techniques were being perfected throughout the year.

Addition of the new potlines brought some other construction activity in the area, too. Texas Power & Light Company erected a new power line from its Lake Creek plant southeast of Waco to Rockdale Works to provide power for the pots. The line was energized in December.

Chricso pointed to some other highlights of 1968 at Rockdale

Works: A new three-year contract was signed with the United Steelworkers which boosted wages and benefits for more than 1,000 hourly workers at Rockdale Works.

Slag from the lignite-burning process continued to find good usage during the year. H. B. Reed Inc. located a new processing facility adjacent to the power plant. Reed uses the slag as a source of roofing granules and blasting grit.

The demand for slag as a skid-resistant highway surface component continued. Interstate Highway 35 through Austin is now covered with the material and officials are hopeful it will help reduce accidents on that roadway.

The government awarded a new contract for atomized aluminum powder produced at Rockdale Works.

Rockdale Works employees were also mindful of the community responsibilities in 1968. They contributed 197 pints of blood to the Red Cross Regional Blood Center in Waco and $9,050 to area United Funds.

And Alcoa donated a two-block tract of land adjacent to Rockdale High School to the school district for future development.

"Safety is a permanent goal at Rockdale Works, and 1968 brought both recognition and disappointment to us," Chricso said. "Although achieving a year of work in 1967 without a disabling injury, this news was offset by the death of an employee when a cryolite tank ruptured in November," he continued.

Chricso summed up Rockdale Works' position this way:

"We are fortunate to be recognized by the company as a plant that justifies additional investment as the demand for aluminum grows. We are also one of the most versatile smelting plants in the system, being able to produce extrusion ingot and sheet ingot of many sizes plus atomized aluminum powder and redraw rod. Our big job is to continue to find better ways of getting the job done because increasing competition in the industry necessitates it. Fortunately we have people at Rockdale Works who understand this problem and are determined to help Alcoa keep ahead."

Farmers - Think In World Terms

AUSTIN — Farmers in Texas and throughout the U. S. must begin thinking in international terms if the nation is to realize its potential in agriculture, House Speaker Ben Barnes said after returning from a United Nations agricultural conference in Geneva, Switzerland.

Barnes was designated by the U. S. State Department to attend a meeting of the Committee on Agriculture of the United Nations Economic Commission for Europe. He and other representatives from the U. S., the Soviet Union and the European countries spent four days last week discussing the farming and ranching programs of Europe and their relation to those of other nations throughout the world.

"When you look at the world-wide food needs and project them just a short distance into the future, it is clear that if we are going to develop agriculture to its potential and provide adequate food to support future generations, we must begin thinking in international terms," Barnes said. "We can no longer worry just about state or even national problems. Agricultural products are becoming increasingly significant as a vital part of foreign exchange, and we must begin closely coordinating our efforts for production and marketing efficiency with other nations around the world."

Barnes said he is keenly interested in meeting with agricultural groups in Texas to pass on information and relate problems that were discussed at the Geneva conference.

"Farmers and ranchers in Texas can do a great deal more right now to begin programs that will benefit them and help ease the world food shortage of the future," he said.

A report of the proceedings and recommendations of the Geneva meeting will be submitted to the U. N. Economic Commission for Europe, which meets annually to study the continent's economic situation and problems as a whole, it uses findings of committees, ery General Sense . . .

"Editor & Publisher" for December 28, year last, ran a Fairchild Publications, Inc. ad whose heading summed modern leadership:

"One sure mark of a leader is a probing curiosity that goes far beyond the field he leads."

This is as good a summation of what contemporary leadership is, in all fields, as any in contemporary print. Modern problems, whatever their kind, require an overriding curiosity of the modern specialist -- for who now is not a specialist? -- which transcends the copious detail of his field.

He otherwise is unable to understand the enormous hammering and yammering all round his narrower slice of life.

That curiosity provides some insight -- at a point in time -- into the broader scheme of things, which is, though it is slivered into misunderstanding.

Seldom is there an opportunity afforded modern leadership like that accepted by our Astronauts. They are literally generalizing the specific. They

What Others Say . . .

Verse-To-Order . . .

We have long been tempted to send in our three dollars a few personal details of our life, and see how the latter looked in poetry. All through antiquity and the Middle Ages men bestowed handsome rewards upon the poets who immortalized them. Bags of gold, villas, and even titles of nobility showered upon those whose verses praised great men. Certainly, it is worth three dollars to join such illustrious company.

We are moved to these conclusions through having read in a New England magazine that there is an on - order poet who, for this small sum, stands ready to right a poem for whoever are dramatizing control of technology as they actuate man's higher attributes of courage and intelligence. They and their thousands of Space Problem specialists are attaining our moon and sun. And they are only beginning.

It is safe assumption these men generate enormous curiosity. Their description of the moon as it passed in TV view of earth's people approached a gifted novelist's narrative. They were living it, however.

Their skills in spacecraft control, testing, photography, communication are the skills of many specialists, performed with athletic precision. On that trip, their IQ's were everywhere.

These men are experienced test pilots at the start. And a few of them articulate their skills, as if in some Hollywood make believe, in the "space shot" end.

They are real, these specialists, attaining an excellence only a restless curiosity would allow. They exceed their specific call with very general sense.

wishes it. Furthermore, it will be a portrait in verse, woven warmly around the cold facts presented.

Once, not so long ago, we had assumed that the age of the troubadour had passed. On-the-spot or on-order minstrelsy seemed too frail a plant to bloom in our tougher, more mechanical days. Then came the current revival of balladeering among the young. And now the word that there is a man whose poetic fountain is so full that, at anytime and for anyone, he can dip thereto and draw forth a personalized bit of verse. This is a heartening thought in this age of computers.

Lively Session Predicted As 61st Opening Nears

By Vera Sanford

ANOTHER legislative session is just around the corner.

Lawmakers are due back in town Tuesday (January 14) for their 61st biennial meeting, and most observers predict it will be a lively session.

Senators and representatives soon will be bickering mightily over the following, and probably hundreds of other less spectacular matters:

—Spending and taxation. Nearly everybody is convinced there will be a big tax bill. But one of those who isn't is none other than Gov.-elect Preston Smith. He is hopeful that he won't have to be concerned with a tax program this year. However, there are demands for appropriations increases and school teachers want a $200 million pay raise.

—Recommendations of the Governor's Committee on Public School Education, particularly those of district consolidation and tax burden equalization.

—Liquor-by-the-drink legislation. What again? This time, apparently, proponents will try the constitutional amendment (let-everybody-vote-on-it) route.

—Minimum wage legislation.

—Constitutional revision.

—Increasing workmen's compensation from $35 to $49 a week maximum and broadening coverage to public employees.

—Air and water pollution control measures.

—Implementing the statewide water plan.

—Raising the public welfare spending ceiling.

—Incoming governor has indicated he will attach personal priority tags to these major program areas: education (with emphasis on vocational and technical training), law enforcement, finance, pollution measures and water matters.

NEW BUDGET PLAN

Legislative Budget Board has recommended $1.1 billion in general revenue spending for 1970-71 --about $77 million more than the bare bones minimum level estimated by Gov. John Connally.

LBB calculated its own modest version of appropriations needs would leave $60.7 million in unearmarked general revenue, but that takes into account no new major programs such as implementation of the governor's public school study or teacher pay boosts.

Board decided to order a stop to salary supplements for major college officials from private funds and to recommend the state pay whatever is needed to get top men. This would cost about $308,500 a year.

Under UBB proposals the governor would get a pay raise from $40,000 to $55,000 a year. That would keep him ahead of lesser appointed officials, some of whom actually have been paid more than the chief executive considering their incomes from private sources.

Budget proposal also includes $8.2 million in state office building (to cut down on $1.5 million annual rentals paid by the state to house agencies in Austin) and an $850,000 state records storage center.

TECHNICAL TRAINING

House Education Committee has urged at least $30 million outlay during the next biennium for vocational-technical education in Texas.

HEC, which conducted study and 16 hearings, found that 16 vocational schools should be provided in 10 years to furnish 180 such facilities. It said all private technical and business schools ought to be regulated by the Texas Education Agency and that James Connally Technical Institute at Waco should be operated as a separate entity for training scarce vo-tech instructors and counselors.

HYACINTH ERADICATION

A plant hormone called "2-4-D" will be used in the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's campaign in the spring to eradicate water hyacinths in the Nueces, Frio and Atascosa Rivers.

Marion Toole of the P&W Department says that state workers, cooperating with the Galveston office of the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, will apply the hormone when the plants are just beginning active growth. No harmful side effects are expected to result from the program, he said, since "2-4-D" is a hormone, not a poison. "We've sprayed Caddo Lake and areas around Houston and Beaumont," he said, "and never had reports of anything injured."

Toole says that the department plans to carry the program to other areas of the state after the South Texas work. He reports that the department has been getting pressure from Louisiana about the problem with the Sabine, and since the upper Sabine is in Texas, this state must deal with the water hyacinth infestation there before Louisiana can get approval for control where the river links Texas and Louisiana.

INAUGURATION

During the pre - session lull, secretaries and other workers in the Legislature are busy addressing invitations from Governor-elect Smith and Lt. Gov.-elect Ben Barnes to the January 21 inauguration festivities.

Smith's inauguration promises to be the most public of any such event since Austin became the capital of Texas. He wants everybody to come help him celebrate his assuming the chief executive's office.

Five of the six inaugural balls scheduled will be free. The formal ball in Austin's Municipal Auditorium, featuring Henry King and His Orchestra, will be the only one for which admission will be charged.

But the "free" balls sound like more fun. Television Star Jimmy Dean, a native of Plainview, Tex.,

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

To get my mind off some December bills that ran a lot higher than I'd figured-I know a nickel tractor bolt now costs a quarter but it takes time to get used to it-I pulled out a newspaper I'd been saving and hadn't read far before I ran into an article that made me feel a little better.

According to it, I'm not the only one having trouble adjusting to high costs. Australia is in the same boat.

Five years ago, it seems, Australia ordered two dozen American jet fighter-bombers at 4 million dollars each. By the time they were ready for delivery the other day the cost was up to 15 million each.

Instead of 96 million dollars, the bill now comes to 240 million, and if you've ever bought anything, makes no difference whether it's a tractor bolt or a fighter-bomber, you know when the bill arrives at two and a half times what you'd figured, you're in no mood to laugh.

The Australians though are going to have to come on in to the modern age. Look at it this way: in 1950 an American farmer could sell 10 calves and buy a new pick-up truck. Today he has to sell 20 calves to buy a pick-up.

The Australians are simply going to have to realize that while five years ago they could buy a fighter-bomber for say 2 million kangaroos, today it takes 5 million kangaroos if we want to hold our own.

Ten years ago a doctor's fee for delivering a baby was $50 to $100. Today it's anywhere from $50 to $1,000.

This is not to say that babies, bolts, or fighter-bombers are worth more today, they just come higher.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Weather Conditions Affect Value Of Herbicides For Weed Control

COLLEGE STATION

Can weather conditions in a crop year affect the value of herbicide use in controlling unwanted weeds and grasses in grain sorghum?

"Yes, they can," answers Ben R. Spears, Extension agronomist at Texas A&M University. And it just happens that 1959 was such a year at the Stiles Farm Foundation in Central Texas.

Favorable conditions for cultivation and growth of grain sorghum naturally diminish returns from the added expense of herbicide treatment. But unless a farmer has an effective way of reading the stars or gazing into a crystal ball, he cannot assume that the year will be favorable.

For example, the expense of a band application of herbicide at planting time was about $5 per acre on the Stiles farm compared to cultivation costs of 60 cents per acre.

On demonstration plots this year at the farm near Thrall, there was no significant difference in yield between areas treated with herbicide and those cultivated. Both cultivation and pre - emergence herbicides gave good control of weeds and grasses in the medium maturity hybrid grown. Post-emergence treatments, however, did not give total control of grasses.

The same pre-emergence herbicide under test at A&M, explained as, will entertain at each of them. And other famous Texans--Glen Campbell, Buck Owen, Ray Price, Charlie Pride and the Casino Brass--will play for dancing.

COURTS SPEAK

Texas Supreme Court threw out orders of a Shelby County court which attempted to invalidate Department of Public Safety drivers' license suspensions of 83 who did not live in the county.

High court exonerated two Victoria doctors sued by a woman who broke her hip in a fall from a hospital bed after electric shock treatments.

Thirty-two death penalty cases were pending as of the end of the last fiscal year says the Board of Pardons and Paroles in its annual report.

Spears, made a 2,500-pound per acre difference in yield in a location where cultivation was delayed due to weather. Extended rainfall had prompted growth of a high population of weeds and grasses which limited production to only 1,070 lbs. per acre. However, a plot treated with the pre - emergence herbicide yielded 3,570 lbs. per acre.

The two instances show that weather noticeably affects the relative value of herbicide use in controlling weeds and grasses. Contrasting situations such as these can occur in separate fields of the same production area during the same year, Spears added.

How then can a farmer determine whether or not to use herbicides? Spears says there are at least four factors one should consider: his overall cropping plan, the texture of the soil, the normal occurrence of grasses and weeds in the area, and the expected yield levels of the crop to be planted.

If a farmer plans to follow his grain sorghum crop with cotton, then naturally he'll have to be more selective in choosing a herbicide to avoid residue effects on cotton. A heavy textured soil allows more choice of herbicides in the seedbed, whereas a sandy or loamy sand soil limits herbicide placement.

If grasses or weeds normally occur where grain sorghum is planted, then placement of a pre-emergence herbicide may be a wise step, particularly if the expected crop yield is sufficiently high to justify herbicide cost.

Spears emphasizes that herbicide treatments are not the only answer to weed problems, but they are the most effective in many cases. Farmers should analyze their individual problems thoroughly before adding just any herbicide to the land.

Misuse of herbicides can give producers a greater problem than elimination of weeds. Spears urges herbicide users to follow label instructions or to obtain information prepared by A&M specialists on the proper application of herbicides.

Milam County Farm Bureau Sets Membership Drive For Jan. 13-18

The Milam County Farm Bureau
 plans a county-wide enrollment campaign January 13 through 18.
 County farmers and ranchers are being invited to join the nationwide farm organization.

Robert Jungmann, president of Milam County Farm Bureau, said
 "Farmers of today are under extreme pressure. The economic position of farmers has worsened because of the cost-price squeeze.
 Parity is extremely low. Not even a spectacular increase in productive efficiency has enabled the farmer to offset production and living costs brought on by spiraling wage and price increases."

Jungmann cited the fact that in the past history of the nation, rural areas and farm people were in firm control of the political power of the nation. But now rural Americans, especially farmers, find themselves in a distinct minority.

"If there ever was a time when farmers and ranchers needed strength through organization, that time is now," Jungmann said.
 "Nationwide, the Farm Bureau is the largest of all general farm organizations," he continued, "but it needs the support and participation of even more farmers and ranchers if agriculture is to have the strong voice it so badly needs."

The Farm Bureau is democratic with policies adopted by majority vote in county, state and national conventions. It seeks support of all farmers and ranchers who want to protect their economic future and guarantee their voice in affairs of government.

Vehicle Records Computerized By Corrections Unit

AUTIN
 Inmates of the Texas Department of Corrections at Huntsville this month are expected to complete the first phase of a sweeping modernization of Texas motor vehicle records.

The Corrections unit was "hired" by the Texas Highway Department to help with the computerization of millions of vehicle records. Inmates are learning new skills and the taxpayers are netting a substantial savings in the course of the work.

Involved in the project are the matching of approximately 6.5 million 1968 vehicle registration records with current certificates of title, and converting the combined records by a typing operation into a format suitable for electronic input into computer storage.

Conversion to data processing will increase the efficiency of vehicle registration. By late in 1969, owners of more than seven million vehicles in Texas will receive computer-printed registration renewal forms.

One copy of the form will be validated by the local county tax assessor-collector and returned to the Highway Department's Motor then be placed in a document scanner that "reads" the information and automatically updates registration data in computer storage.

Another copy will serve as a receipt for the vehicle owner, and a third will be filed in the county tax office.

 exhibit classifications, restrictions and purposes of the science fair have been sent to the math and science teachers at each school.
 Extra copies can be obtained by writing Reaux.

"We urge teachers and parents to stimulate students to begin working on their projects now in order to insure a project of competitive quality by March," Reaux said.

Students are allowed to enter a project in only one of the 11 exhibit classifications - medical biology, organismal biology, structural biology, functional biology, chemistry, earth science, mathematics engineering, atomic and nuclear physics, electrical and electronic physics, mechanics and thermodynamics physics, and optical physics. No group projects are accepted.

Trophies will be awarded for the first, second, and third places in each classification with awards being made in both the junior (grades 7-9) and senior (grades 10-12) divisions. Trophies will also be presented to the top three exhibitors in both divisions. All entrants will receive certificates of merit.

 "Standards for judging are creative ability, 30 points; scientific thought, 30 points; thoroughness, 10 points; skill, 10 points; and clarity, 10 points," Reaux said.
 Entry forms will be sent to the schools Jan. 4 with all forms to be returned to CTC by March 1.

MRS. ROBERT DALE PALMER

Miss Doreen Summers Weds Robert D Palmer

Miss Doreen Summers and Mr. Robert Dale Palmer were married at 3 p.m. Christmas Day at St. Monica's Catholic Church, Cameron. Rev. John Geiser performed the ceremony and music was presented by Mrs. Frances Zott.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Summers of Cameron. She is a graduate of Academy High School of Temple. Mr. Palmer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Palmer. He is a graduate of Troy High School.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of peau de soie and lace in empire silhouette. The lace bodice was embellished with pearls and sequins and a chapel train which fell from the shoulders was bordered in flower- ing lace and accented with lace appliques.

Her shoulder length veil was held by a tiara of pearls in the shape of hearts. She carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with a white orchid on a white Bible.

Honor attendants were Miss Sandy Boyd and Mrs. Chuck Sloan of Temple. Mr. David Summers, brother of the bride and Mr. Wayne Palmer, brother of the groom. Mr. Bill Brown and Mr. Ronnie Brown served as ushers.

The brides attendants wore formal gowns of hot pink peau de soie and carried nosegays of pink carnations.

Mrs. Harold Fisk of Eddy registered guests at a reception in Simon George Hall. Also in the reception houseparty were Mrs. Gerald Scoggins of Temple and Mrs. Jimmy Gobbert of Dallas.

Following a wedding trip to Arkansas and parts of Louisiana, they will be at home in Temple.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

IF YOUR PROPERTY IS CONDEMNED

If the government wants your property for some public use, the government may take it. But when that happens, you are entitled—under the Constitution to “just compensation” for the loss.

Unhappily, your notion of “just” and the government’s notion of “just” might be very different. When citizen and government can’t get together on the price, what rules prevail?

Almost always, the test applied by the law is “fair market value”—that is, the price your property would bring in a normal sale by a willing seller to a willing buyer. This leaves out elements of value that are strictly personal to you. Take this case:

A home owner claimed several thousand dollars for some shade trees, located on a strip of his land condemned for a highway. Although the trees added little to the market value of the property, the man pointed out that he had given them tender loving care for more than 20 years.

But the court denied compensation for this special value, saying:

“The law simply does not allow compensation for such personal feelings.”

Nor can you collect for future values that can be seen only through rose-colored glasses. In one case the owner of raw acreage tried to show the court how valuable his land could be, some distant day, if it was subdivided and sold for home sites.

However, the court would not listen. As one judge put it:

“To permit such evidence would convert an eminent domain proceeding into a guessing contest.”

On the other hand, you are entitled to be paid for possibilities that are realistic—even if you yourself have not yet tried to realize those possibilities.

Thus, a man owning land on a business street won compensation for its income potential, even though he himself had only a house on it. The court said the income potential was real enough so that a buyer would consider that element in making an offer.

In short, the law seeks a fair balance between the government, hoping to cut expenses, and the property owner, hoping to hit the jackpot. In the words of the United States Supreme Court:

“Compensation shall be just, not merely to the individual whose property is taken but to the public which is to pay for it.”

Mrs. Sanders is a senior at San Marcos State Teachers College. Mr. Sanders is a graduate of the University of Texas and is now employed with the Texas Education Agency in Austin.

CLUB PRESIDENT HOSTS PARTY FOR DELPHIANS

One of the loveliest of Christmas parties was tendered the Delphian Club on Dec. 17 when it met in the home of its president, Mrs. A. W. McCullin.

“Keys to Happiness” was the theme for the show which will be held program theme for the day. The singing of “Silent Night” and “Joy to the World” set the stage for the reading of the Christmas story from Luke 2: 1-16 by Mrs. Leland Green.

Miss Mildred Thornton presented a review of Truman Capote’s “A Christmas Memory.” This narrative revived in each mind the many memories associated with Christmas.

Fifteen members enjoyed a gift exchange from the beautifully decorated Christmas tree and then were invited into the dining room for refreshments.

The serving table cloth was of green and centered with an arrangement of candles and holly in cut glass containers. Cheese balls, sugared nuts, and individual fruit cakes were offered. Mrs. E. J. Burkes presided at the coffee service.

From the pink Christmas door wreath throughout the reception rooms the holiday season was featured.

“Keys to Creativity” will be the theme when the Delphians have their next meeting on Jan. 21 with Mrs. L. W. Stroup Jr. as guest speaker.

CAMERON, TEXAS

County Agent's Notes . . .

Programs Set For Producers

By J. D. Moore

Due to the disease conditions reported in vegetable gardening during 1968, a Clinic was held in the extension office on January 8, with Dr. John Larsen, specialist from A&M there to give a program. This clinic gave producers an opportunity to ask questions and get recommendations for vegetable production for 1969.

MEETINGS SET
Ben Spears, specialist in grain sorghum production will give a program in the District Courtroom in Cameron, on January 26, 7:30 p.m. The purpose of the meeting is to give county farmers an opportunity to check up on varieties, chemical weed control, fertilization, and other problems they may have.

Grain sorghum yields for the county could be increased 500 to 1,000 pounds per acre just by selecting the higher yielding varieties. This information is available in the county agents office.

Dr. John Beverly, specialist from A&M's Animal Science Department, and Dr. R. M. Tisworth, local veterinarian, will discuss factors that affect cattle reproduction in a meeting to be held at Dr. Tisworth's home located at 305 Yale in Cameron, on January 21.

The program will start at 9 a.m. Following the discussion, these men will test some problem bulls to show the importance of checking the efficiency of breeding animals as a means of increasing the percent calf crop in a herd of cattle. All stockmen are encouraged to attend this important meeting.

A county poultry meeting is set for January 23, 7:30 p.m., to be held in the Rockdale State Bank conference room. Ben Wormeli and David Mellor, specialists from A&M, will give a program of interest to all county poultrymen. Dairywomen from the north and of the Heart of Texas DHIA will meet in the Cameron Chamber of Commerce conference room at 9:30 a.m., January 23. J. W. Davis, Dairy Specialist from A&M, will attend.

The purpose of the meeting is to discuss changes in the dairy records system. Dairywomen from Bell, Falls, Milam and McLennan will attend the meeting. The Cameron Chamber of Commerce office is located at 112 East 2nd St., in Cameron.

Milam countians are urged to mark their January calendars and participate in these educational meetings. You know we hear farmers and stockmen say they know how to produce, what they need is a better price for their products. This statement is only partially true. Our grain sorghum yields for the county, even at a 3500 pound average, continues to be a thousand pounds below the B.I.G. goal of 4500 pounds per acre. Our cotton yield average at 1/2 bale per acre is 1/2 bale below the goal of one bale per acre. It takes a combination of all the production tools available for those men who are reaching goals set for county yields.

Poage Bill Aimed At Unfair Freight Rates On Farmers' Produce
Legislation requiring the Secretary of Agriculture to file a complaint with the Interstate Commerce Commission under certain conditions regarding transportation of farm commodities was introduced today by Chairman W. R. (Bob) Poage, D-Tex., of the House Committee on Agriculture. Similar to a bill sponsored during the last Congress by Poage but not enacted, the measure provides that when 20 or more persons certify to the Secretary of Agriculture that they are being damaged by discriminatory freight rates in transportation of farm commodities, the Secretary is required to file the complaint with the ICC.

Demonstration On Orchard Care Set

How to prune a peach tree, how to recognize a fruit and leaf bud, dormant oil spraying and other topics will be discussed at a demonstration to be held at the I. V. Wise orchard east of Hanover on January 13, at 9 a.m. To get to the I. V. Wise farm, leave Farm Road 2065 several hundred yards south of the Hanover store on to a gravel road east. Continue east through the York pasture (cattle grad entrance). Wise's home is first house after leaving the York pasture. The public is invited to attend.

Many people own a part of TP&L

Texas Power & Light Company was organized in 1912 and continues to operate today as an investor-owned business. The investors are thousands of people like you and your neighbors who entrust their savings because they have confidence that such an investment will return a reasonable dividend.

Many of the owners of TP&L are direct shareholders. Many others are indirect owners through funds paid for life insurance policies and pension trusts which, in turn, have been invested in the securities of the electric utility business.

Investor ownership is a vital factor in America's free enterprise system. TP&L is proud to be a part of this system and to provide dependable, economical electric service throughout North, Central and East Texas.

It's a fact: During the past twenty years, the costs of certain materials and items of equipment purchased by Texas Power & Light Company to produce and supply electric power have risen as much as 100%.

Gadgets or God

Scientific achievements of the world in recent years could very easily detract our minds from our Creator. Wonders of the laboratory have captured the adoration of all peoples. Lest we forget, and lest we start placing our dependence for livelihood in the marvels of science, let us take a second look. "For by him were all things created that are in heaven, and that are in earth, visible and invisible, whether they be thorns, or dominions, or principalities, or powers: all things were created by Him, and for Him: and He is before all things, and by Him all things consist." Col. 1:16, 17. Then let us stay with our true creator—let us serve Him. Let us attend and support His church.

'69 Paychecks Will Show Increase In SS Payments

Starting with the first pay checks they receive in the new year of 1969, the nation's working people will pay 4.8 percent of their earnings toward their social security protection. This is an increase of four-tenths of one percent over the amount they paid in 1967 and 1968, according to Jack Calvert, social security district manager in Temple.

Social security contributions are still payable on only the first $7800 of annual earnings, Calvert said. For a person earning $7800 or more in a year—that's $150 a week or more—the increase will amount to 60 cents a week; a worker earning $100 a week will pay 40 cents a week more.

This increase went into effect on January 1 and was scheduled in the social security amendments of 1967. Those amendments increased cash benefits for all beneficiaries by at least 13 percent. The increase in benefits payable to workers and their families in the future will be even greater, Calvert said.

Retirement protection for workers and their families was increased and so was the protection wives and children have if the worker should die. There is also improved protection for the entire family if the family breadwinner should become disabled for work for a period of 12 months or more.

Gradual increases are scheduled in the contribution rate until, for 1967 and later, the rate will be 5.9 percent.

Younger workers, as well as those who are middle-aged or older, can look forward to getting social security retirement benefits worth considerably more than the total they will pay into social security toward that retirement protection, Calvert stated.
